

The Director of the Gymnasium in her report said: that she had tried to think of individual development more than in former years; she gave the facts and tendencies of the students' health as revealed by the charts filled out by the examining physicians. Mention was made of the undesirability of two persons sharing the same room; of the effort made by the undersized girls to grow; of the good attendance in physical culture, and the interest in basket ball. "Few of the seniors have any genuine interest in Athletics, or physical culture. The students of South Hall have been the most faithful attendants. Miss Hamilton has been a very desirable assistant." After reading her report, Mrs Raff spoke of Dr Davis' letter, and recommended the appointment of Dr Annie Ross, of the Macdonald Institute, Guelph, on account of her knowledge of physical culture and special fitness for the position. She spoke also of the need of urging the first year students to pledge themselves to attendance on the gymnasium, in order that they should be regular attendants in the following fears. ~~She said, that~~ If a gymnasium fee were charged, students would be more careful to avail themselves of their privileges. Mrs Raff believes that the best class work in university students partakes of the nature of play, and that corrective work must be individual. The effort to do individual work has made the year a heavy one. In the discussion which followed it was pointed out, that, until physical culture is made a part of the university curriculum, there will be great difficulty in securing an hour, which will suit all the students. Mrs Russell moved, Mrs Kerr seconded, that the plan of registering exercise each day be continued, and that all delinquents be reported to the Dean. Carried. Mrs Laeg moved, Mrs Massey seconded, that Mrs Raff's report be adopted. Carried. (The report is on file).
